MOE TUITION GRANT

To help students manage the cost of full-time tertiary education in Singapore, the Government of Singapore offers a Tuition Grant Scheme that provides subsidies for eligible students.

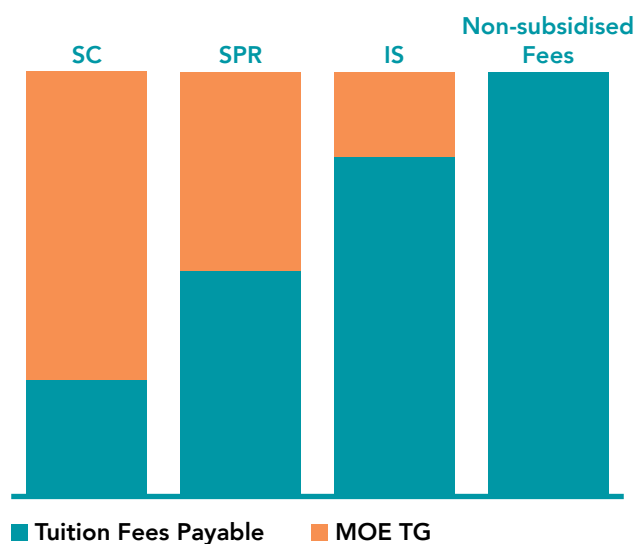

Singapore Citizens (SC) will be automatically awarded a Tuition Grant (TG) with no bond obligation. Singapore Permanent Residents (SPR) and international students (IS) will need to apply for the grant, and complete a Grant Agreement to work in a Singapore entity for three years upon graduation.

Students who have received a TG for degree programmes at NUS, NTU, SMU, SUTD, SIT, SUSS, LASALLE or NAFA, are eligible for a TG up to the total credits required for graduation at SIT, less the percentage of semesters or trimesters of the TG received at their previous university.

If you have already fully utilised your TG for degree programmes and were conferred degree qualifications, you need to pay non-subsidised fees for the entire duration of your new programme.

If you graduated from a part-time undergraduate degree programme, awarded by the former SIM University, and enrolled in the degree programme between 2001 to 2008, please email: Registrar@SingaporeTech.edu.sg for more details on tuition fees.

Please note that applications for loan schemes, subsidies, bursaries, and grants must be submitted by the stipulated deadlines. Information is correct at the time of printing. For more information, visit SingaporeTech.edu.sg/admissions/financial-aid.

What does being an SIT Scholar mean to you?

Being an SIT Scholar means I am a representative of the university. Not only do I get to be seen and heard by the SIT community, it also makes me proud to tell others that I am studying in an institution that I truly care about. The SIT Scholarship gives me a new purpose in my university life as it allows me to expand my perspective beyond academics.

I am encouraged to actively contribute and make a difference in the SIT community by serving as the President of the Astronomy club. Opportunities like this add excitement to my university experience.

With multiple opportunities such as the Scholarship Engagement Programme (SEP), I was able to network and connect with like-minded individuals across different faculties. SEP not only helped me improve my social skills, but also provided me with the necessary knowledge and skills set, preparing me to be a future leader. This motivates me to work harder as an SIT scholar to realise my best potential.

Any words of advice for your juniors?

University education is definitely not a walk in the park. It's all right to fall. As long as you can pick yourself up and be consistent, your efforts will shine through. Most importantly, always remember to take care of your health during your education journey!

What does being an SIT Scholar mean to you?

Having been awarded the SIT Mid-Term Scholarship, I hope to be an inspiration to many others, particularly those coming from ITE. Many people believe that ITE students cannot compete academically with those who take a conventional path to university. However, as an ITE graduate, I can attest to the contrary. All educational paths progress towards an individual's future, and it is up to you to believe that success is attainable.

I always remind myself that the decisions I make now will shape my future. By striving to work hard, asking questions, and ensuring that I spend enough time revising and understanding, I can achieve what I never thought I could during my studies at ITE.

As an SIT scholar, I hope to serve as an example to ITE students and their parents. It is possible to succeed in university, despite taking a longer academic path. It all begins with intrinsic motivation and a positive mindset to reach your goal.

I've had the opportunity to learn more about myself and various types of personalities thanks to the Scholarship Engagement Programme (SEP). As a result, I am able to understand the different teammates that I worked with, and leverage their strengths to achieve our desired objectives.

Any words of advice for your juniors?

Don't just dream or hope, work hard, and achieve it.

What does being an SIT Scholar mean to you?

Becoming an SIT scholar came as an unexpected blessing. It has given me the opportunity to make the most out of my university life, maximise my learning, and have the freedom to give back to the community.

The Scholarship Engagement Programme (SEP) has provided me with the opportunity to engage with like-minded individuals and broaden my horizons. I am looking forward to participating in the curated activities and expanding my university experience beyond academics. SEP provided me with the opportunity to hone my leadership and communication skills, which will be vital in maximising my ability to give back to my peers.

Through my journey, I hope to inspire others to believe that they, too, are capable of doing the same and achieving their full potential.

Any words of advice for your juniors?

Don't be afraid to step into unfamiliar territory and expand your horizons. For many of us, this may be the last stage of our educational journey. Try out new things, make mistakes, learn from them, and take this opportunity to become the best version of yourself.

What does being an SIT Scholar mean to you?

Being an SIT scholar means a lot more than just assuming the role of an ambassador or representative of SIT. It is an entrustment that those in the role will contribute and empower fellow SITizens to achieve the unachievable. As an SIT scholar, I hope to make a difference in the community and inspire my peers to do the same!

I would say that the most valuable takeaway from my SIT scholarship experience has been the varied opportunities provided for the development of my interpersonal and leadership skills. The Scholarship Engagement Programme recently hosted networking events for fellow like-minded peers and alumni. Opportunities such as The Ambassador Platform has also given me a chance to represent the University, reach out and connect with prospective juniors.

Any words of advice for your juniors?

I guess the main piece of advice to my juniors revolves around one of my favourite quotes by Herman Hesse: "Learn what is to be taken seriously and laugh at the rest."

This quote reflects my work ethic as well as the way I view my university experience. While it is of great importance to focus on academics, it is of equal importance to surround yourself with like-minded and supportive people, and to do the things you're passionate about. After all, humour and fun-filled experiences are what brings spice to university life and keeps you going!

What does being an SIT Scholar mean to you?

I love game design and see games as a medium of expression through which I can connect with others. In previous volunteering work, I've been able to use games to bring communities together, providing a space where people can play and bond with each other, and have even been able to teach underprivileged youths to design their own games. The SIT Scholarship is an invaluable opportunity that allows me to focus on my studies and pursue this passion

Any words of advice for your juniors?

Through your university education at SIT, your path and life in general will be different from those around you. Forge your own path and go at your own pace. My favourite quote is:

"You cannot, you cannot use someone else's fire. You can only use your own. And in order to do that, you must first be willing to believe that you have it."
– Audre Lorde

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE RECIPIENTS

SIT offers a wide range of financial assistance to enable our students, some of whom are the first in their families* to attend university, to pursue their dreams of a university education, and create a better future for themselves and their families.

SHAIKH HABIB QARIEB BIN SHAIK AMINOR RASHID

Year 2
Diagnostic Radiography

I am grateful to be the first in my family to attend university and I chose SIT because it is the only autonomous university that offers the diagnostic radiography programme. The curriculum is designed in collaboration with industry to ensure that graduates are highly employable and work ready.

My father is the only breadwinner in our family, and he makes a modest living as a private driver. Hence, I had intended to apply to Mendaki as they helped me immensely with my tuition fees when I was in the Polytechnic.

Before I knew about SIT's financial assistance schemes, I was worried that I would not be able to afford my educational expenses. Receiving the Lim Doa Hin Study Grant and Public Bursary was very reassuring. I will now be able to pursue my education goals without any worry.

I am thankful that the various financial assistance schemes at SIT have enabled me to pursue my passion without letting any financial woes get in the way.

*First in family refers to students whose parents did not have the opportunity to attend university.

LEE JASON

Year 2 Accountancy

I chose SIT over the other universities as it offers practical degree programmes that are relevant and in demand in the industry. The eight-month Integrated Work Study Programme (IWSP) for the Accountancy programme has prepared me to become a practice-oriented professional who is ready for an accounting career.

Being the first in my family to enter university, I was concerned with the expenses I would need for my studies. My father, who is the sole breadwinner for the family, had to stop work recently due to his health issues. Hence, I intend to work part-time to help with the family expenses.

SIT's extensive range of financial assistance schemes offer me a great sense of assurance. It has relieved me of extra stressors, allowing me to give my full attention to my studies!

LIM YI TING

Year 2 Hospitality Business

The main reason I was attracted to SIT was because of the university's unique work-study opportunities in comparison to other universities. With the choice of Overseas Immersion Programme (OIP) or Integrated Work Study Programme (IWSP), I would be able to benefit from the exposure to different working environments and be better equipped to enter the workforce after graduation.

I was concerned that my pursuit of a university education would place an additional burden on my mother, who is my family's sole breadwinner. However, the tuition fee loan and bursaries have helped me to manage my tuition fees and living allowance.

With the financial assistance received at SIT, I can concentrate on my studies without worrying about educational expenses.

ADELINE CHIANG YA TING

Final Year Accountancy

I am the first in my family to attend university. I was drawn to SIT because of its distinctive applied learning pedagogy. Through the Integrated Work Study Programme (IWSP), I was able to experience the entire audit cycle. This allowed me to gain valuable work experience, skills, and in-depth knowledge of the rapidly evolving industry. I was able to put what I learnt in SIT into practice.

My primary concern was my tuition fees. My father, the sole breadwinner, was diagnosed with cancer and could no longer support the family. As a result, our household finances were severely strained. With the bursaries I received, I was able to relieve my father's financial burden.

The financial support offered by SIT has given me the opportunity to further my education without worrying about my tuition fees.
