SIT Sub-brand Logos
The logo consists of two boxes – in Zest Red and Dynamic Black – merged with tilts to create a fluid, dynamic form. This reflects SIT’s education model where opportunities are opened up to poly graduates to spread their wings and explore new horizons. Zest Red exudes the aspirations of both SIT and its students to continue striving for greater heights while Dynamic Black positions SIT as a professional and forward-thinking institute.

The four red triangles represent the tripartite collaborative model (comprising SIT, OU and Poly), which along with the students, come together as catalysts for Singapore’s economic future. As part of the logotype, the letter “I” occupies a position of central importance, emphasising SIT’s focus on learning, progress and fulfilment for its students.

The red dot symbolises Singapore, where the best degree programmes from around the world are now housed under SIT.
Rendition of the logo should be clear at all times to ensure maximum visibility. A clear space zone is calculated using the height of Dynamic Black Box in the logo, as shown. 0.5 X is used to define the clear space zone around the perimeter of the logo. The example illustrates how the clear space zone should be applied to the preferred version of the SIT window.

MINIMUM SIZE

It is important that the SIT logo is clear and visible at all times. Therefore, the minimum size for reproducing the SIT logo is 10mm.
SECONDARY LOGO

Logomark

In certain circumstances, the logomark may be used on its own to render a clean and clutter-free look.

Examples of usage
- Building façade
- Building interiors
- Small-item corporate gifts such as collar pins, pens, lanyards, etc.

When logo is applied within tight perimeters, or on areas with space constraints, usage of the logomark is preferred instead of the wordmark.

Wordmark

The wordmark should only be used where space is a constraint and in conjunction with the logomark, when the logomark appears on the front of a piece of collateral or an article of clothing on its own.

Logo with URL

The logo with the URL should be used on informational items that aim to direct audience to the website for more information.

Examples of usage:
- Advertisements/Posters
- Banners
- Flyers
- Email blasts
LOGO COLOUR SPECIFICATIONS

SINGLE COLOUR APPLICATIONS

This version may be applied when one-colour printing or production is used. For example, black and white advertisements, or one-colour printing for selected print collaterals.

REVERSE APPLICATIONS

Applicable to full colour printing on graphics/pictorial background.
Applicable to black and white printing on graphics/pictorial background.
Application to 1C printing on graphics/pictorial background.

The colours for the logo must be adhered to and should not be swapped or alternated.

The following primary and secondary colour guide should be strictly followed when applying on communications materials. No other colours must be used other than the palette stipulated below.

Primary Colours

The primary colours should be used wherever possible.

- Process Colour K100
- Pantone Code 485 C
  - Process Colour M100 Y100

Secondary Colours

The secondary colours are currently being used to differentiate the various disciplines but can also be employed for a variety of purposes should the need arise.

- Pantone 2746C
  - C100 M100 Y0 K0
- Pantone 1655C
  - C0 M80 Y95 K0
- Pantone 2603C
  - C59 M90 Y0 K0
- Pantone 348C
  - C85 M10 Y100 K10
- Pantone 137C
  - C0 M35 Y85 K0
APPLICATIONS ON COLOURED BACKGROUND

Where possible, the logo should be applied in full colour on a white or light-coloured background. This is the preferred application as it allows the logo to be most visible.

When using logo on solid dark colours, or colours similar to corporate colours, always use 1C application or reverse logo application. When using dark, textured or busy backgrounds, care should be taken to ensure that the logo remains clearly visible.

When logo is applied on graphics/pictorial backgrounds, use a full colour logo in white box, or reversed logo in black box to ensure clarity of logo. A single colour logo in a black box should only be applied when logo is used on graphics/pictorial background rendered in one-colour printing.
IMPROPER USAGE

The SIT logo is often the first point of contact to the public. Therefore, it is vital that the corporate logo is used consistently and should not be altered beyond the guidelines stated in the Brand Guidelines.

- Moving elements around
- Changing colours of elements
- Wrong colour code use
- Resolution insufficient for printing
- Skewing/Slanting of logo
- Stretch/Distort
- Incomplete
- Feathering
- Drop shadow
- Rotation of logo at an angle
- Logo on food items
CORPORATE TYPEFACE

A typeface used in accordance throughout the various communications collaterals and touch points will exude a consistent brand look.

The following presents a set of guidelines on sub-branding to ensure that the application of a division’s logo/name on any collateral is consistent across all divisions.

Vendors are advised to seek final approval of the artwork from the respective division BEFORE proceeding to production.

Vendors are advised to adhere to the policy that the SIT brand must be present on all SIT collaterals and gifts, especially in the presence of a sub-brand. This will ensure that internal and external stakeholders are cognizant of the SIT brand as one body.

Refer to the section on Marketing Communications And Tools (Pg.43) for comprehensive guidelines.
The guidelines set out in this document may not be exhaustive and will be updated regularly.
